Colusa County Welcomes Behavioral Health Director

Dr. Anthony Hobson, Ph.D. Assumes Position on June 1, 2022

(COLUSA, CA) May 31, 2022 – In April, the Colusa County Board of Supervisors appointed Dr. Anthony Hobson, Ph.D. as Behavioral Health Director, with responsibility overseeing mental health, psychiatric, marriage and family counseling, and addictions treatment on behalf of Colusa County residents. Dr. Hobson succeeds interim Behavioral Health Director Noel O’Neill, and will officially assume his role on June 1, 2022.

“Our state is making large investments in behavioral health, and we are excited to have Dr. Hobson on board to lead the execution of this effort at the local level,” said Supervisor Jose Merced Corona, Chair of the Colusa County Board of Supervisors. “His background and experience will serve Colusa County residents well in a time when behavioral health services are absolutely critical.”

Dr. Hobson received his doctorate in clinical psychology from Walden University, and his master’s degree in multicultural counseling from San Diego State University. In 2018 Dr. Hobson was appointed to the Council on Criminal Justice and Behavioral Health by then Governor Jerry Brown, and most recently served as Behavioral Health Director in Plumas County.

Colusa County Behavioral Health provides counseling, crisis intervention, psychiatric medication services, information and referrals, mental health education, patients’ rights advocacy, peer support, and wellness and recovery groups.
